Publié le 9 décembre 2020 – Mis à jour le 3 février 2021

Date(s)

le 20 janvier 2021

Deadline for applications: January 20, 2021

Hosting excellent international students who will follow a Master's degree program at Clermont Auvergne University. The CAP 20-25 project, winner of the I-SITE "Investments for the Future" call for projects, aims to promote the internationalization of the research and training undertaken at the University of Clermont Auvergne (hereinafter referred to as "UCA"), and to assist their integration in their socio-economic environment. It takes the form of 4 research challenges and 7 transversal programs including the "WOW!" program (Wide Open to the World), which is dedicated to international strategy.

In this context, WOW! is launching its "CAP 20-25 Incoming Master Fellowship" call for projects. This program is intended to finance the arrival of excellent international students who will follow a Master's degree program at Clermont Auvergne University. It will finance excellence scholarships for students nominated by the Program Coordinators of Clermont Auvergne University or associated Engineering Schools, who undertake to enroll them in a program leading to a master's degree.

Candidates will be required to have a B2 level (CEFR) in the teaching language of the Master.
