

Seminar Human behavior in crisis situations

The aim of this seminar is to present how humans behave when facing different types of crisis situations (climate change, natural disasters, emergencies, pandemic, etc.). This seminar will consist of 5 sessions of 1 hour, with 40-45 minutes intervention of a specialist and 15 minutes for questions and open discussion. It will take place on Wednesdays (12 :00 Paris Time) from November to May 2021/22, and it will be interspersed with our parallel seminar «Communities in the Anthropocene» run by Elena Zwirner \(elena.zwirner@uca.fr\).

This seminar is organized by Lisa Fourgassie (lisa.fourgassie@uca.fr), hosted by the Université Clermont Auvergne, UFR Psychologie, Sciences Sociales et Sciences de l'Éducation, Laboratoire de Psychologie Sociale et Cognitive (LAPSCO UMR 6024), and supported by CAP2025.

How to join

The seminar is hosted on Microsoft Teams. To register, click here and fill the form or contact lisa.fourgassie@uca.fr

Program and schedule : Wednesdays @ 12 AM (CET time)

1 December 2021 : Paul VAN LANGE (Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam)

Cooperative and antisocial behavior in face of climate change

2 February 2022 : Nicolas PILLAUD (Université de Bordeaux)

Social interactions and emotions during COVID-19

March 2022 : SPEAKER (to be confirmed)

April 2022 : SPEAKER (to be confirmed)

11 May 2022 : Anne TEMPLETON (The University of Edinburgh)

Crowds behaviors in emergency situations